

Weekly News!

Week of September 22, 2025

Ms. Mendez and Mr. Ayers

We are learning ...

Reading - This week, the students will be learning how to have constructive conversations with their classmates. The students will learn how to start and continue conversations using sentence stems that will help them to explain their thought process. We will also learn how to identify the meaning on new vocabulary words using context clues.

Writing- The students have really enjoyed exploring different writing genres over the last two weeks! This week, the students will learn how to create an opinion piece. The students will also be introduced to revising and editing techniques that will help strengthen their writing.

Math- In math, the students will be learning how to round numbers. The students will use what they have learned about place value in order to round numbers to specified places.

Social Studies- This week, we will be learning about Hispanic Heritage Month. We will learn about the countries that represent the Hispanic culture. The students will then pick a famous Hispanic American and research their contributions to society.

Reminders

Back to school night is Monday, September 29 from 6:00-7:30pm.
Students will be dismissed at 1:20pm.

iReady Report

The students have been working hard to complete their iReady reading and math assessments. Once the assessments are completed, I will be sending home the parent report which will help you understand your child's reading and math ability.
